

TRAVELING BY AIR

Has Never Been Safer!

Statistics about Plane Accidents

Throughout the past 20 years, there has only been 18 fatal accidents across 289,800,00+ flights.

289,800,000+ airplanes have safely taken off and landed all around the nation and the world.

Data Source: Airlines for America – Safety Record

Flights Flown from 2000 - 2018

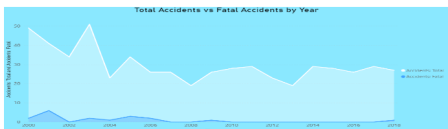

289,800,000+

Flights Flown per Year

16,100,000+

Flights Flown per Day

44,000+

Data Source: Airlines for America – Safety Record

Chances of an Accident occurring while Flying

From 2000 to 2018, you had less than a 3% chance of having a fatal accident every 100,000 departures

Data Source: Airlines for America – Safety Record

Average Chance of a Fatal Accident from 2000 - 2018

Data Source: Airlines for America – Safety Record

Throughout the 289,800,000+ flights that have flown, the average chance that you experience a fatal accident is less than a 1% chance.

Can you say that there is a near zero percent chance every time you get into your car that you will not encounter a fatal accident?

Global Perspective

Across all of the major airlines from 2000 to 2014, there has never been more than 5 fatal accidents throughout that entire time range of departure. The max amount reported was 3 throughout the 14 years.

Data Source: Airlines for America – Safety Record

Global Fatal Accidents 85'-99' & 00'-14'

85'-99'

122

00'-14'

37

30.33%

Decrease in Global Accidents

Data Source: Airlines for America – Safety Record

”

“A person would have to fly on average once a day every day for 22,000 years before they would die in a U.S. commercial airplane accident according to recent accident rates.”

-Dr. Arnold Barnett, MIT

